2. Buy a three-stage Moonrocker's change-out for $25,000. . .

   OR

3. Turn the center stage into a Moonrocker's show and put the side characters elsewhere in your park. . .

   OR

4. Have the show converted into any other concept you can imagine.

ATTENTION:

The only reason this quality animation is available at these incredibly low prices, lower than any in the history of the industry, is because we have on hand an inventory surplus of Rock-afire Explosions originally intended for use in restaurants. These shows are being liquidated at 40% below cost. And, when gone, there will never be a sale like this again.

These shows from $74,000 up are brand new, come complete with a vast software library, computer, drapes, curtain tracks, spotlight and special lighting effects, sound system, props, and scenery, plumbing, and complete documentation. They can be changed into many other show concepts year after year to further support this excellent value.
